

Kickoff Scheduled For Buff Football Drills

BY LYNZA CARADINE

Football drills open September 1st at West Texas State University.

The 1964 Buffalo squad faces an overhauling task during the coming season.

Gone are the ten starters and standout players of the 1962 Sun Bowl team.

Missing from the lineup will be Pistol Pete Pedro, Jerry Richardson, John Varnell, Hoot Gibson, Ollie Ross, Bill Lorraine, Jack Mayfield, Jim Denny, Jim Ostrander and Quinton Epnette.

The main job of head coach Joe Kerbel is to fill holes and build depth in the remainder of last season's injury-riddled squad.

Seventeen lettermen return to the squad this season. However, many of these lettermen were pressed into action to replace injured starters last year and are lacking in experience.

"We've lost ten starters. We have the toughest schedule we've ever faced, especially when you consider where we play these teams and when we play," said Kerbel.

"If we can get through the first half of the schedule with these key teams and stay in good condition, I think the last part of the season will show our true potential."

Workouts will be held beginning the morning of September 1st. The boys will go through light drills and wear shorts for morning workouts. They will work out in pads in the afternoon.

All drills are set on the practice field located near Jarrett Hall by the dressing room and training room building.

Just who the starters will be is a question mark for some positions, according to Kerbel.

Probable starters include ends, Butch Walterscheid, Woody Gilliland or Bruce Kimmery; tackles, Wilton Manley and Bobby Walton.

Trying for the guard positions are David Sims or Terry Funk and Vernon Kosub or James Pope.

One of the strongest spots in the line is the center slot, manned by Doc Rowell, Charlie Daves or Bill Uzzolino.

Quarterbacking the squad is Bill Bundy. Cinching the full-back slot is Russell Mundy.

At left half will be either Dennis "Flash" Flanagan or Tony Waters. James Williams is the right halfback.

"Jerry King and Earl West will be especially counted on defensively," Kerbel said.

"I think a true estimate of what this season could be would have to include an analysis," Kerbel continued.

"We have experience at the end and center positions and have boys with one year under their belts at guard spots. Our weakest spots are in the backfield and the tackles."

"At fullback is Russell Mundy and I expect him to have a fine year. The quarterback slot is really the big question mark. Actually, William Bundy can handle the main part of it."

"We are counting on all the boys. Not all of them have played a lot. Boys like James Williams need to get that experience during the first half of the season. During the last half, we'll expect them to show the experience they gained earlier."

In addition to Kerbel, the coaching staff for this year's squad includes end coach Jack Harris, guard and center coach Billy Willingham, defensive backfield coach John Roberts and tackle coach Clarence Dierking.

Season play opens for the Buffs September 19 at 7:30 p.m. against Ohio University in Buffalo Bowl.

Other scheduled games include September 26, Arizona State University here; October 3, Texas Western College here; Oct. 10, North Texas State at Denton.

Oct. 17, homecoming game, Memphis State University at Canyon; Oct. 24, Trinity University, Canyon; Oct. 31, San Jose State College of California at Canyon; November 7, Texas Technological College at Lubbock; November 14, New Mexico State University at Las Cruces; and Nov. 21, Arlington State College at Arlington.

Commissioners Table Petition

A petition to consolidate county precincts 16 and 20 was permanently tabled Monday afternoon by Randall County Commissioners.

Commissioner Bill Butler suggested the petition be tabled for three reasons.

"The consolidation of the two precincts would cause a change in the boundary of the justice of the peace boundary lines and would cause some confusion. "This area is also increasing in population which would create a burden of additional voters in precinct 20.

"The area to be traveled by some would cause voters to be handicapped," Butler pointed out.

He also said that a new location would be sought by the county for the voting polls. The petition was presented to the commission by Mrs. Glen Costley.

"I am happy with the suggestion made by Mr. Butler," Mrs. Costley said.

"I did not want to consolidate the precincts. I merely wanted to centralize the voting place. The commission said they would try and find a new place in the future for elections and that is what we wanted," she continued.

Mrs. Costley resides in Precinct 16, and said Monday afternoon she presented the petition in order that the people in her precinct could use voting machines during elections.

In other action Monday, commissioners accepted a check for $7,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Giles of Amarillo for the old tax office building, located at 3308 Tyler in Amarillo.

Decision to hire a welfare and juvenile worker was tabled until next week.

Commissioner Clarence Beckman asked permission of the commission to purchase a used pickup for the county. The commissioners voted their approval to let Beckman buy the pickup.

Dog Bites Youngster

"I don't understand what happened, Toby was just standing out in the yard and the dog suddenly attacked him," said Mrs. Judy Miller.

Four-year-old Toby Miller was released from Neblett Hospital Wednesday, but left with a "big bandaid" on his head. Monday Toby was attacked by a dog, a dog that he had played with many times.

Angelo, a three year old German Shepherd, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ron Adams, was Toby's next door neighbor.

Kevin, the Adams' two-year-old son, and Toby spent most mornings playing with Angelo and Coco, the Miller's Chinese Pug, and Angelo had always been gentle and friendly.

But, suddenly without any provocation, Angelo broke from his leash and attacked Toby, biting him around the head. Before the dog could be pulled from the boy, Toby had a long cut beginning just past his hairline and ending almost at the base of his skull.

"Toby and I had just gotten back from Amarillo," said Mrs. Miller, "and I had stopped by

Let It Rain. . .

And the rains did fall in Canyon and Randall County. Up to 3 inches of much needed rain was recorded in and around Canyon following several days of moisture last week. Pretty Miss Janie Burk, daughter of Mrs. Oris Burk, decided to take a stroll in the dribbling rain which fell Saturday afternoon. And what is more pleasant than a pretty girl walking in the rain?

It's ball time for the small fry in Canyon with the beginning of daily workouts for Kids Incorporated. These youngsters were at Conner Park for the first day of practices. Kirk Ashley, left,

School Board Adopts Budget, Puts Polling Box In Amarillo

A budget of $969,622 was adopted by Canyon Independent School District trustees Tuesday at a public hearing meeting on the 1964-65 budget.

Superintendent Huslyn Laycock presented the board with the itemized budget, and several additions were made to the preliminary budget.

The board voted to add

$5500 to the budget for paving of streets adjoining school property near the high school and elementary school.

The board said they would be in favor of the paving improvements and would work to get other property owners in the area to go along with the program.

Four school patrons attended the budget hearing and remained during the entire meeting of the board Tuesday night.

Bill Davis, president of the Parent-Teachers Association, asked the trustees if the PTA could have financial help on a concert piano which was purchased two years ago.

The board has given $750 to the project each year, but did not make provisions for the piano in this year's budget. "We will be glad to help individually, but we feel the use of the piano, even though it is in the high school auditorium, does not include all the district," board president,

Sound Show Planned For Amphitheater

A special stereophonic sound show, "Echoes in the Canyon," will be presented in Palo Duro Canyon amphitheater Friday night.

The show, which begins at 7:30 p.m., is sponsored by the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation.

Three large speakers will be used in the demonstration of sounds and echoes around the theatre stage.

Larry Durbin, audio communications division of West Texas Electronics, and Bill Rhew of the Bill Rhew Pictures and Recording Service of Amarillo, will arrange the equip-

Jerry LaGrone, said.

All board members expressed their desire to help the PTA with money raising projects to pay for the piano, but they all said they felt money should not be given out of the school budget unless absolutely necessary.

Tax rate for 1964 has been set by the board at $1.95 with $1.29 for maintenance and 66 cents for interest and sinking fund.

A letter from the board of equalization was read at the board meeting. The letter praised the work of tax assessor-collector, Lee Foster.

Board of equalization suggested a committee of 9-12 persons be set up to review the tax base of some property in the district.

Trustees invited the equalization board to meet with them at the October meeting.

The board accepted the application of E. T. Cummings as school auditor for school accounts for the 1963-64 fiscal year.

Booster Club Meets Monday

New officers for the Canyon High School Booster Club will be elected Monday night in the high school cafeteria.

Persons interested in sports of the high school and junior high school should attend the meeting, which begins at 8 p.m.

"We will elect officers, set up the program for the coming year and discuss fall activities at the meeting Monday," Roscoe Richardson, president, said.

"We urge everyone to attend the meeting. We want to get started on the activities," he concluded.

Rains Bring Hope During Crop Crisis

Randall County farmers and ranchers were given back a little hope this week after the best rain the county's seen all year.

The life-giving rains began Friday and the drizzle and occasional downpours continued throughout the weekend and on Monday night.

"The rains were spotty, and we're not certain of all the areas," reported John Brazzil, county agent, "but the general amount received was about two inches."

Some areas were not as lucky as others. One report showed as much as three inches of moisture from the storms, while Umberger and the southeast portion of the county measured only a trace.

Reports of only light rain were also received from the northwest and western portions of the county.

Good rains were measured in Amarillo, Canyon and Happy. "There's no telling exactly how much good this rain will do," said Brazzil, "but it's a sure thing it's meant the difference between a loss and breaking even to many farmers."

One of the biggest benefits of the moisture will be to the grass and pasture land, according to Brazzil.

Cattlemen have been facing a very critical situation and still aren't out of it. The rains have come late in the summer and it will be difficult to recover much of their losses.

But this rain might be able to keep those losses from growing too much higher.

The cattle had eaten the pastures down almost completely, and without rain the grass couldn't replenish itself.

Feed prices are high and the roughage feed supply is in critical shape. Many ranchers couldn't meet these extra expenses and therefore had to begin reducing the size of their herds.

This rain should cause a big improvement in this range and pasture land. The grass should be turning green soon and grow enough to lessen the feed problem quite a bit.

The much needed rains will also cause quite a change in the wheat situation. Many farmers now have the needed moisture for planting.

Brazzil predicts that a big acreage of wheat will be seeded during late August and early September.

"The rains came a little early," said Brazzil, "but by the time they can get their land ready, farmers will be able to begin planting wheat."

Irrigated wheat land needs to be fertilized and if the soil is dry then it won't be able to hold the fertilizer. Therefore, they too are grateful for the moisture.

Many of the wheat acres planted will be seeded for grazing in an effort to regain some of the cattle losses. There is a particular interest in the winter roughage feed which is most important to the livestock man.

Even though the growing season on these crops has been

More Work Needed On Cable Home

School starts in just over a week, but the C. B. Cable family may not be ready.

Mrs. C. B. Cable and her seven children keep casting hopeful glances at their home at 200 Fifth Avenue, but the house looks a little unfinished.

"We need more financial help and physical help in order to complete the house by September 1," said Justice of the Peace Bill Wilson.

Wilson is heading a group which is trying to prepare the Cable home for living.

Mrs. Cable was left widowed last spring when her husband died from an accidental gunshot wound.

The home on Fifth Avenue was given to the family and moved into town. For the past several months, various groups and individuals have cleaned the house, put stucco on it, put part of the electrical work in it, and worked several hours in preparing the home.

But more help is needed.

"We need half of the house shingled, plumbing done on the inside, cabinets built in the kitchen, and painting on the inside."

"We also need someone who can put a floor covering down. We have the carpet, but we need it put down."

"The electrical work, which was started by Wayne Wirt Electric, needs completed," Wilson pointed out.

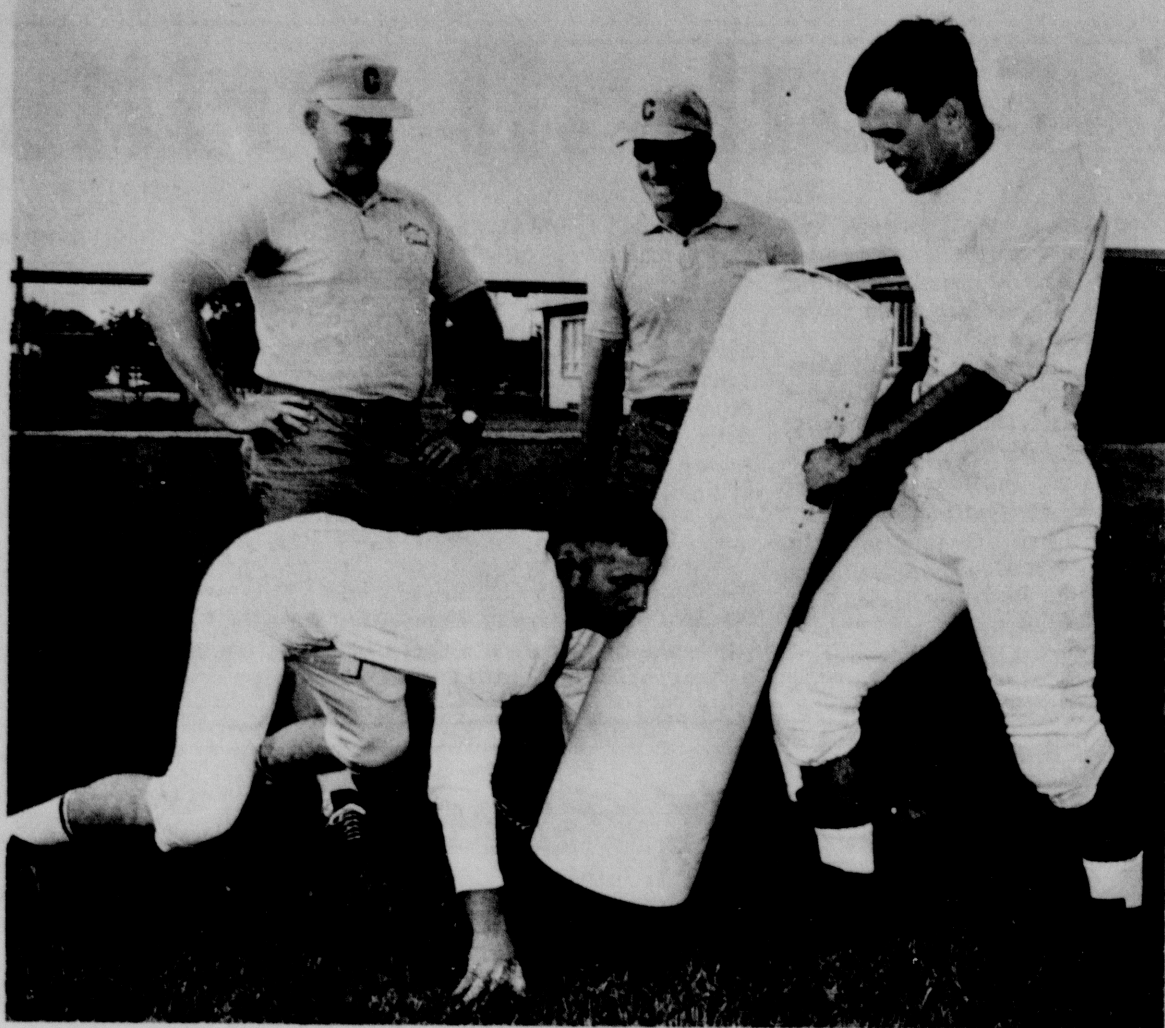

"If we are to have the house completed by Sept. 1, we must have additional financial help. We are out of money at this time."

"If people are going to help us, now is the time," Wilson said.

"The family needs a place to live, and I hope to help them get it ready before school starts," he continued.

Anyone desiring to give contributions or help with some part of finishing the home, should contact Wilson in the Randall County courthouse annex.

Football Workouts Underway As Eagles Drill Twice Daily

Fifty-three boys were on hand for Canyon High School varsity football practice when drills began Monday.

Head coach Jeep Webb said that 87 boys had signed up for football prior to the opening practice session.

"The boys reported for workouts in better condition than I had expected," Webb said.

"We work out twice daily. We have light workouts in the mornings with the boys wearing shorts, shoulder pads and helmets. Then the boys work out in pads in the afternoons."

Morning drills get underway at 7 a.m.

Afternoon sessions begin at 5:30 p.m. on the practice field behind the high school.

"Some of the boys stay here after the morning practice is over and toss the ball around," Webb continued.

"I had wanted to start yesterday, Monday, at 6:30 p.m. with afternoon drills, but it got dark so early that I changed the time to 5:30 p.m."

In speaking of the team, Webb reported that he had not lost any boy he was counting on.

Press Day August 31

Football Press Day is scheduled Monday, August 31, at West Texas State University.

Attending will be local and area press people and invited guests and dignitaries.

Press Day is hosted by the University Department of intercollegiate football. The luncheon will be held in the east dining hall.

Following the luncheon, WT football squad will be in uniforms for interviews, pictures, tapes, films and to meet with any other requests of the press.

Lou Spry, sports information director, is in charge of notifying various people about the Press Day activities.

City Hall Has Birth Certificates

If you are a parent searching through your house for your child's birth certificate before school begins, you have been requested to go by the Canyon city hall.

Dewey Bryant, city manager, said this week that parents who have children entering the first grade this fall and need birth certificates should go by the city hall and get one made.

"They need to come by as early as possible so we can make them a certificate from our records," Bryant said.

Each child entering the first grade must have a birth certificate.

Guests Visit Conatser Home

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Conatser last week were Mrs. Charles W. Conatser and Teresa and Mr. and Mrs. Rex McClellan and son Neil, from Urbana, Illinois.

The McClellans are from England where he received his Ph.D. three years ago. He has been teaching the past year in the University of Illinois in Urbana.

They were enroute to Houston where Mr. McClellan will be teaching at Rice for the next three years. While in Canyon, they visited Boys Ranch, Palo Duro Canyon, and the Museum, and spent a short time at a local shop where Mr. McClellan purchased a western straw hat, the first hat he had ever owned.

Mrs. R. D. Wheelock, John Robert, and Mary Ann are vacationing in the East with Mrs. Wheelock's mother, Mrs. Brewer, and Brett Brewer of Vernon. The group plans to visit Washington, D. C. and the New York World's Fair before returning to Canyon.

A week of reminiscing was begun this week when Mavis Hill, district clerk, made a subtle speculation about my childhood years.

Mavis commented she had decided I had been a rather (and we use this word with tongue in cheek) mischievous child.

If Mother had her say, the word would be more like hellion. As a matter of fact, she would have classified all three of her daughters in the same drawer: under Trouble.

My younger sister had her 21st birthday Sunday, and I couldn't help but recall some of the "good ole days" when we played in the sand box together.

Do remember one instance when we decided to dig a hole in our front yard. We were going to dig plumb to China, on the other side of the world.

Well, after a few minutes of diligent dirt moving we talked the situation over and decided to dig only half way...that would be to Hell.

Mother did suggest we give up the whole idea, so we turned our interests to an apple tree in the backyard.

After a few minutes of work on the tree, Mother found it was necessary to warm the seat of our pants. We had peeled the bark off the entire lower portion of the beautiful and fruitful tree.

The tales can run on and on. With one daughter, say, six years old, another three and another two, times could be rather tense around the home.

As we became older, the folks noticed that what one of us did not have the courage to do, the other two did. Therefore, we were into and out of more predicaments than they could keep track of.

Daddy tried to organize a girls softball team at one time, but when word got around that those "Williams kids" were playing on the team, somehow we had no offers for competition.

Mother and Dad did find a great pleasure in sending newspaper clippings back to the hometown newspaper after the three of us graduated from college.

We all made it out of school last year, and with a picture of all of us...dressed up in very lady-like clothes...Mother sent a news clipping to Enid, Oklahoma, where we had spent most of those delightful devilish years.

We all felt sure people would faint when they realized these girls...one a doctor, one a school teacher, and another a reporter...were the same ones who delighted in throwing mudballs at neighbors' cars as they passed our house.

Dr. J. L. Markham, owner of Markham Veterinary Clinic came up with a problem this week.

Joe called the office and asked with a pleading voice if anyone knew what Troy Martin's dog looked like.

Seems that Troy left the family puppy at the clinic while on vacation. All was fine until the police brought in a puppy that looked exactly like the Martin canine.

Joe did have a problem. He wanted to put the second dog to sleep, but he didn't know which pup was which.

So, if any friends of the Martins know what the little dog looks like, they might call Joe and see if the right dog can be identified.

Otherwise, Joe will just have to feed both of them for another couple of days.

Oscar Hinger Hospitalized From Attack

Oscar Hinger, principal of Rex Reeves Elementary School, is in good condition at Neblett Hospital following a heart attack early this week.

"Oscar wasn't feeling well over the weekend," said Mrs. Hinger, "so he went to the doctor Monday and had a cardiograph taken while he was there."

"When the results came in Tuesday, Dr. Jarrett placed him in the hospital to rest and recuperate. The doctor said he would probably be there for about 10 days," said Mrs. Hinger.

At the present time Hinger is in good condition, but is not allowed to see visitors because of his need for rest, according to Mrs. Hinger.

Mrs. Carl Wooten and children, Cynthia Lee and Robert Len have returned home to Albuquerque, N. M. after spending two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. McKay.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tomlinson have been their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Williams, Sheri and Mark of Tucson, Arizona. Mark remained in Canyon with his grandparents and will fly home later.

He was honored at Harding by being listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" during his senior year. He has done post-graduate work at Harding Graduate School of Bible and Religion in Memphis, Tennessee.

CHS Girls Win Ratings At Workshop

Canyon High School cheerleaders won second and third ratings at the annual cheerleaders workshop last week held on the campus of Southern Methodist University.

The five Canyon girls competed against 18 groups in Class B for the honors.

"This year there were more groups in our class, and they were much better. And we feel pretty good about winning second and third," Jill Jarnagin, one of the head cheerleaders, said.

The workshop competition was held four days of the camp and cheerleaders were judged each day. The week-long conference was held in Dallas.

Cheerleaders attending from Canyon were Jan and Jill Jarnagin, Sugar Plank, Charlotte Clark and Katy Upshaw.

Price On $20 Bill Unknown To Collector

Mrs. Hollie Johnson has found a collector's item, but she can't find out how much it's worth.

Mrs. Johnson has been collecting coins for some time, and her collection is now fairly good sized.

Recently she came across a $20 bill issued April 1, 1838 shortly after Texas became a state.

The bill is the 569th $20 bill issued in Texas after statehood. It has the original signatures of Henry Smith the state's first treasurer and Sam Houston the state's first president.

Mrs. Johnson wrote to the Treasury Department to find out the bill's worth, but to no avail. Their reply was that they had no idea what the price of the bill would be.

"I want to sell it, but I have no earthly idea what to ask for it. I keep looking for someone who knows, but so far I haven't found anyone," said Mrs. Johnson.

"This is the first time I've ever had this kind of problem with my collection."

A family picnic and supper will highlight the meeting of the Social Pioneers next Thursday evening.

The club will meet at the T.T. Fain home at 7 p.m. on August 27.

All members are invited and requested to bring well filled baskets.

Football Practice Starts At Happy

Football practice opened Monday for head coach Ricky Mantooth's district 1-B Happy High School Cowboys.

Practice sessions are scheduled twice daily, beginning with morning drills from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m.

Afternoon drills are from 4 p.m. until 6 p.m.

Workouts are held on the practice field located directly behind the gymnasium. The Happy football field is located to the north of the gym.

Twenty-two boys reported for opening workouts, according to Mantooth.

"The varsity team is composed of boys from the top three grades," Mantooth said.

Class B teams cannot wear pads during the first week of workouts.

"We will begin workouts with pads and contact work Monday, August 24th," Mantooth said.

"The boys came out for drills in pretty good shape," he continued. "I was pleased with them. I could tell they have been working to keep in condition."

Mantooth was reluctant to comment on the prospects for the coming season schedule.

"The boys expect a good season and we might get one," he said. "However, we'll have to wait and see."

Last season's Cowboys had a 3-7 game record.

Only one boy failed to report to the team when drills began, Mantooth noted. "We lost our starting tackle from last year, Lance Cox, a 200-pound junior. I have another boy who will take his place," he said.

Mantooth listed a tentative starting lineup, stressing that "this is the way it was set up last year and the way I started this year."

"There could be some changes made in that lineup, and probably will be," said Mantooth.

Included in the tentative starters are 7 seniors, 3 juniors and one sophomore.

"I have a bunch of other good boys who are expected to be pushing for starting positions," the coach continued.

Included are Mark Maynard, Randy Johnson, Frank Venhaus, David Womack, Bob Robinson, Gary Allen, Richard Todd, Bob Carter, Bill Vernon, Mike McCauley and Milton Schaffer.

The Cowboys are slated to scrimmage Sudan Friday.

About 15 freshmen are expected to report for fresh football practice which will open August 31st.

Happy's varsity schedule, which opens Sept. 11 at Turkey, includes six conference games this season.

While on the trip, the Goodmans visited in Colorado, Nebraska, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Michigan. They spent some time in Northern Wisconsin and Michigan where they toured the Soo Locks at Sault Ste. Marie, Canada.

The Goodmans visited Merimac Island where the horse is king. Only two mechanized vehicles are on the island, an ambulance and a fire truck. All travel is by horse and buggy, or bicycle.

On returning to Colorado, the Goodmans spent several days visiting with Mr. Goodman's mother, Mrs. Elise Goodman.

Community Services Performed By Cook

BY PHYLLIS BONNIE

The end of summer heralds the time when a dessert of cake and coffee is especially enjoyable. For our issue this week, Mrs. R. A. Neblett has contributed a recipe for "Milky Way Cake."

Mrs. Neblett, known as Dorothy to everyone who has made her acquaintance, is a native of Canyon. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Burrow, pioneer residents and businessmen, Dorothy has lived in Canyon for all but three years. The first of those three years was spent in Galveston, where Dr. Neblett was completing his work in medical school. The other years were passed in New Orleans.

In 1932, the Nebletts returned to Canyon, and Dr. Neblett set up his medical practice.

Original work on Neblett Hospital was completed in 1937, although additions have been made since then.

Dottie, now Mrs. Clay Perkins, is visiting with her mother for several weeks. She is a resident of San Diego, California, where her husband works as a physicist with General Dynamics.

Dorothy is proud of her twin grandchildren as she is of her children. Ann and David are two years old, and are visiting in Canyon with their mother.

Charles Robert, the second of the Neblett children, is married to the former Sally McGee of Amarillo. He is now a senior at Baylor Medical School in Houston.

Dorothy has served the First Presbyterian Church as an elder, as well as holding numerous offices in her circle. She also is a member of the Woman's Book Club, the Tuberculosis Board, the Cancer Board, and the Cemetery Board, and admits to being a member of the Garden Club, although she laughingly plans to buy some garden gloves with green thumbs, since she doesn't have one.

Dorothy is a graduate of the University of Texas, as are both her children. She has traveled extensively, having been to Europe, Hawaii and the Caribbean, and has enriched the lives of those who know and have known her by these journeys.

The cake for which the recipe is given may be iced with a powdered sugar, butter and cocoa frosting, with enough milk added to make it easy to spread or it may be left plain. Either way it is a fine dessert and makes a delicious complement to after dinner coffee.

MILKY WAY CAKE

8 Milky Way Bars

2 Sticks Oleo

2 Cups sugar

sugar with 1 stick oleo, add the eggs, and alternately flour, buttermilk, and soda. Then add the Milky Way bars. Bake in a tube pan at 325, 1 hour and 10 minutes, or until done.

Campers Home From Canyons

Seventeen representatives of the First Methodist Church were at Methodist Junior Camp at Ceta Canyon last week.

The camp was sponsored by the Amarillo District, and attended by campers from fifth and sixth grades, who spent the week in Bible study, nature study, swimming and hiking.

Campers from the church were Kent Barnard, Keith Keeling, Gary Schrib, Judy Sch-nell, Terry Landrum, Jerry Landrum, Becky Haley, Demaris Stevens, Judy Davis, Fawneil Price, Patsy Dorris, Lynnda Edwards, Linda Duden-hoeffer, Linda Hales, Mary Lou Parks, Connie Ormsby and Bill Bloch.

Mrs. R. A. Neblett is proud of her twin grandchildren, Ann and David. They are the children of Mrs. Clay Perkins, who is holding Ann.

Mrs. C. R. Burrow, mother of Mrs. Neblett, is the completion of the four generations shown above.

Boy Scout Troop Takes Annual Wilderness Trip

Boy Scout Troop 66 made an annual trip to the wilderness area of New Mexico July 31 returning home August 7.

The 23 boys and their four adult companions came back to Canyon praising the blessings of the wild out-of-doors but were very happy to get into their nice clean beds.

This was the eleventh such trip for Troop 66, and is the highlight of the year.

"This is how we spend the money we make selling programs at the WT football games," said Andy Moreland, the senior patrol leader.

The boys left from Oscar Hinger's house and went by bus to Cowles, New Mexico.

"We stopped here for about two hours," said Pat Jarrett, "it's sort of a guest ranch, but it's really just a store in the middle of the road."

"We didn't do much there," said Pat, "just ate a bunch of ice cream and had horseshoe tournaments."

Following their adventures in Cowles, the boys got back in their bus and made the journey to the foot of the Wilderness Trail, where they spent their first night.

"Three of the boys, Ronnie Wooten, Phil Swartzell and Billy Dan Crossland, wanted to be first to go up so they started up the trail that night," said Andy.

"Everybody was pretty tired, as a matter of fact Ronnie fell asleep while he was walking up the trail," he said.

The rest of the boys spent the next morning packing their gear and fixing their bedrolls. All the equipment except for their personal belongings was carried up the mountainside by horses.

"The adults were carried up on horseback, too," said Pat. "It's about a five mile walk, and feels like it's straight up. The sign says it's four miles to the site, but they must have meant from peak to peak, it sure couldn't have been by the trail."

The boys made their base camp at Lake Stewart which is in the Wilderness Area of New Mexico and made side trips to Lake Johnson, Lake Spirit and Lake Kathrine.

"We found an un-named lake too, at least it wasn't marked anywhere," said Andy, "so we named it - the forest department might not know it but there's now a lake in the Wilderness Area named Lake 66."

"Most of what we did," according to Pat, "was fish and walk. We hiked everywhere."

Some of the boys climbed from Lake Kathrine to a nearby peak. From this point they could see about 30 towns. The peak was covered with mica and as the boys described, "it was a regular mica gold mine."

The boys reported the fishing was good on the lakes even from the homemade and rubber rafts, but that the temperature of the water made swimming a little difficult.

"The water was just about as cold as it could be without being frozen," said Pat.

"The best fishing place was the Beaver Pond, that's where the biggest fish were. We had two fish fries and it was great," said Pat.

"Six of the boys went on a 30 mile hike along the Santa Fe Ridge," said Pat, "I was one of them and for a while there I didn't think I was going to make it."

Andy Moreland, Ronnie Wooten and Gene Myers came down early for the Order of the Arrow Ordeals so they missed the rest of the trip.

The rest of the boys and their leaders broke up camp and cleaned up the area Friday morning and prepared for the journey home.

They split up into two groups. One group stayed on the mountain for awhile and then walked down to the foot of the trail. The other group of about 12 "Parachuted" down the steep trail.

"Parachuting down is really where you run all the way, it's a lot more fun. We only had one casualty on the trip down. One of the boys tripped as he was coming down and hit his head, but other than that we just had a wild trip down the mountain side," said Pat.

"We got a lift into the store where we bought a bunch of candy bars for dinner and then went back to the bus."

The boys stopped for a "traditional dinner" of hamburgers in Tucumcari, and the continued their trip back to Canyon.

"We have another tradition too," said Pat, "this one is that the bus has to break down on the way home."

Evidently this trip home was no exception.

"The bus broke down at least 10 times," said Pat. "Once Mike Olsen, got it to running again. The last breakdown was just outside of Dawn - we just gave up."

"Some of us got a lift into town to see if we could get someone to haul us in, but by the time we got back some farmers had made the thing run again."

"From there on we didn't have any trouble," said Pat. "We finally got into Canyon about midnight."

"Next year," said Pat and Andy, "we're going to go farther into the Wilderness. The regular area is getting too populated."

Two Cars In Minor Wreck Here Tuesday

One traffic ticket was issued in a two-car accident involving Carmen Sue Kiser and Patricia Legrand Tuesday morning.

The accident occurred at the corner of Fifth Avenue and 12th Street.

According to investigating patrolman Edwin Harris, Miss Legrand was traveling north in a Chevrolet Impala on 12th Street and failed to grant right-of-way.

Her car was struck by a Rambler stationwagon driven by Miss Kiser, who was traveling west on fifth Avenue.

Both victims were reported as shaken up but not seriously injured.

Damages to the Legrand car were estimated at $500. Miss Kiser's car received an estimated $400 worth of damages.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Patterson and daughter were in Hollis, Oklahoma recently for the funeral of her cousin, Jimmie Darnell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Darnell of Hollis. Also attending the funeral from Canyon were Mr. and Mrs. Jewel Webb and Joe, and Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Prock.

Workshop Held For 5th Year

Members of the fifth annual high school speech workshop held their reunion last weekend following the production of "Merry Wives of Windsor."

About half of the group of 58 returned for the reunion. The students assembled in the Intimate Theatre where they were given an address by Dr. Crannell Tolliver, head of the West Texas State University speech department.

The Buffalo Masquers workshop was announced for October 10 by Ronny Parks, president of the club.

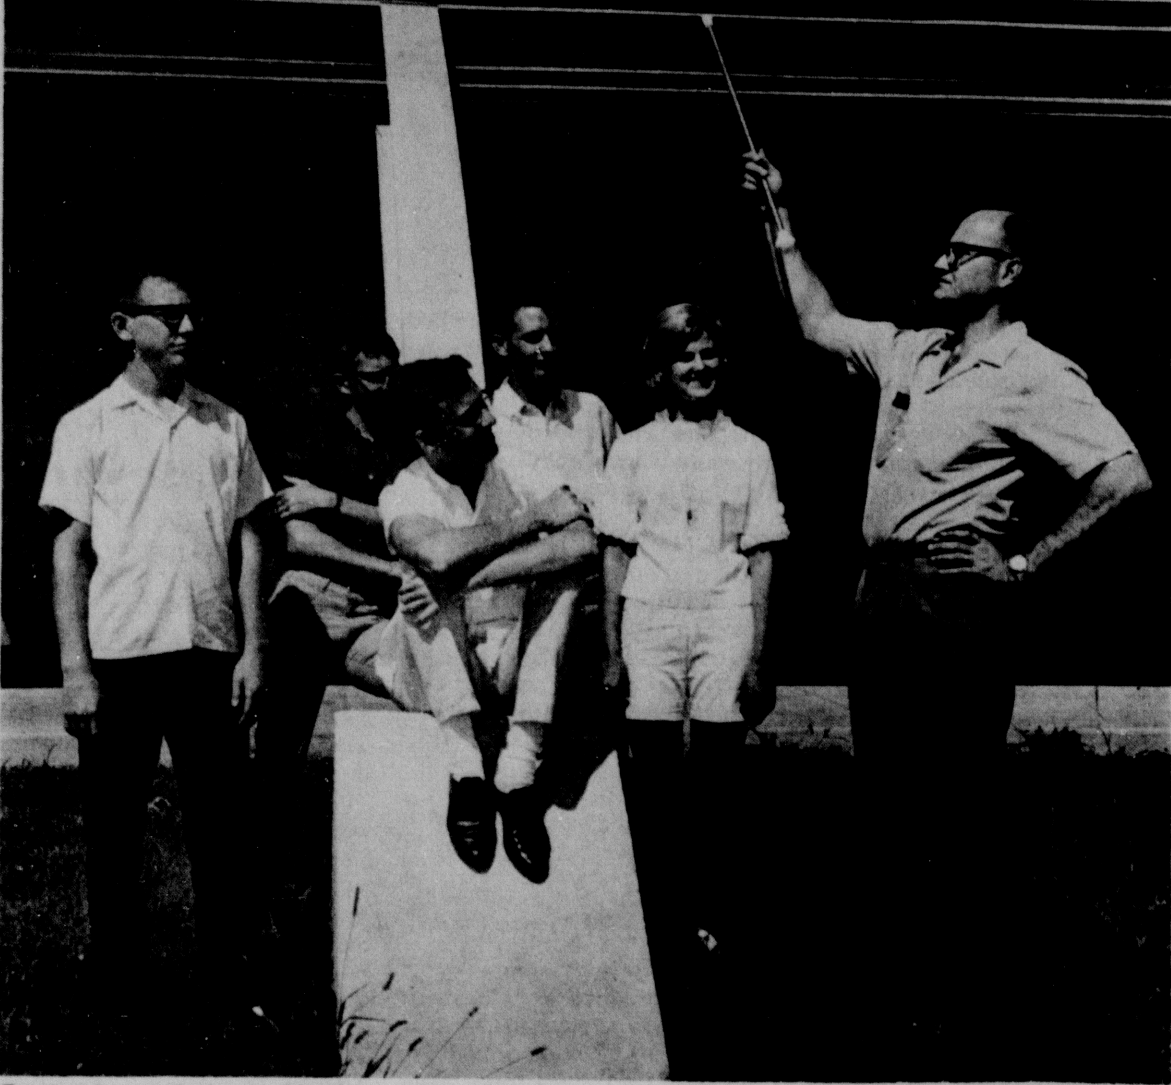

Refreshments were served following the strike work and the programs began.

Mrs. William A. Moore gave a summary of the events that had taken place in the Branding Iron Theatre since the last workshop. She also introduced each student to give an account of his activities since leaving.

The group decided Stephen Busby of Amarillo and Randy Hobbs tied for giving the funniest and most entertaining account of their activities.

Pictures taken of the workshop activities by Gort Rushmer, the WT photographer, were shown to the group.

Featured in the evening entertainment was a program given in the Branding Iron Theatre to close the 17th season of the Summer Theatre at WT. Julianna Hansen, of Tulsa, received her Branding Iron award during the program, since she had been unable to attend the Awards Night Program last spring.

Band rehearsals began Monday morning for the Canyon High School Eagle Band under the direction of Gary Zook, far left. Drum major try-outs were held Wednesday afternoon and these five students competed for the title. Results were not known at press time Wednesday afternoon. Shown above are David Burrell, Craig Bellah, John Haynes, Judy Brazzil and Billy Cawthon. Zook is showing the students several routine calls used by the drum major.

Indian Dancers Make Trip To Ceremonials

The Wopalanne Indian Dancers attended the Inter-tribal Indian Ceremonial held at Gallup, New Mexico last week.

The 13 dancers and their sponsors Mr. and Mrs. Crosby Hammons and Bud Hickman left for Gallup last Thursday and returned the following Sunday.

The dancers are a Canyon group and a part of Boy Scout Troop 31. They attended the annual ceremonials to get new ideas for dances and costumes.

"At these ceremonials each tribe is represented and each of the dancers is an authentic Indian of that tribe. No one but real dancers are allowed to dance in the ceremonials," said George Hughes, assistant scoutmaster of the Troop.

"Before we went to Gallup," Hughes said, "we went to Shiprock, New Mexico and spent Friday there going through the Navajo Reservation."

"We all enjoyed this because Crosby Hammons' brother took us through, and we got to see so much more than the regular tourists get to see."

"Mr. Hammons works for the Indian Affairs Bureau of the Department of the Interior."

"We got to go to some of the ruins that hadn't been excavated yet, and got to go into one of the Indian houses," said Hughes.

"The regular tourists don't get to do this because the Indians are such a suspicious people, and besides that they don't want people trotting through their houses all the time."

"In the house there was an Indian woman weaving one of the rugs they're so famous for," Hughes reported.

"I think this is one of the things that amazed the boys so much - the prices on the merchandise was so high."

"There was one rug for sale that was $3,700, and all the jewelry was priced in the hundred dollar bracket. They said the rug would last a long time, but at that price it had better last forever," said Hughes.

The group continued on their trip to Gallup, and Saturday they saw the parade.

Only Indians are allowed in the parade that goes through the center of the city every year. The Governor isn't even allowed to participate, unless he's an Indian.

"The parade was made up of dancing groups all Indian bands and many other things. There weren't any cars or other motorized vehicles in the parade."

"There was a ceremonial sports program Saturday afternoon, that had all sorts of things in it. The one that impressed me the most was the Totonac Voladores from Mexico."

"They did tricks suspended from wires on a 75 foot pole. They'd been appearing at the World's Fair, but had returned for the Ceremonials," said Hughes.

"Of course, the main part of the ceremonials were the dances that were held Saturday night. They were great, and we got a lot of new ideas."

"We're planning to make another trip August 29 and 30," said Hughes. "This one will be to La Junta, Colorado to see the Koshare Indian Dancers there."

"This group is a regular scout troop that's so good they've even performed before the President. They've also just recently built a $100,000 Kiva, which is an Indian temple or church."

"We ought to get some good ideas from them, too."

Visitors in the home of Mrs. Jewel Webb and Mrs. J. A. Darnell last week were Mr. and Mrs. Utah Darnell from Odessa, Grady Darnell from Odessa, and J. V. Darnell and children from Hollis, Oklahoma.

Question Of Rainfall Cycle Important To Community

BY ANN LANDER

It's not news to Canyon residents that Randall County has not had its share of moisture this year even with the rainfall last weekend.

But, it might be news that the county has received about half the normal amount of rainfall for this time of year.

Canyon has now had 7.07 inches of moisture.

The normal amount of moisture for this same time is in the neighborhood of 15 inches.

There is a never present question on the minds of the residents of this "Golden Spread" that until recently has been better known as the "Sun Baked Spread."

That question asked hopefully by all is: "Are we finally out of the drought that has plagued the Panhandle for so long?"

Of course there are various answers to this question, two as a matter of fact. Half say yes, and half say no. Really the answers are a matter of opinion only.

"Although Canyon received a good rain," said Dr. M. B. Measamer, head of the West Texas State University geography department, "there are many areas in the county that received very little moisture if any."

"Even with the 2 1/2 inch rain," said Measamer "there's no way to avoid the situation, Randall County is still in critical condition."

Many of the Randall County residents remember the droughts of the 1930's and the 1950's with horror. Many also still fear that this same thing might be happening again.

"It's true that these periods do seem to follow a definite cycle," said Measamer, "but the 20 year cycle is the most dreaded, and we're too early for that."

"Every 20 years we have four or five years of really bad drought, and then in between these years we have four or five years of drought, but not in such frightening proportions."

The drought that occurred during the 30's seems to many people to have been far worse than the five years of drought from 1952 to 1956. However, this is not so according to the official government bulletins.

This period in the '50's was the worst drought the Panhandle and the nation ever faced.

The records show that in 1956 only 11.22 inches of moisture were registered for the area - the driest year in the history of the area.

"The reasons the years of the 1930's seem worse is because farming methods were not as advanced as they were in the 1950's and as they are today," said Measamer.

"People remember the dust and the wind of the '30's. But many fail to realize that in the '50's farmers had begun planting cover crops and mulching their soil."

"These methods kept down the dust and the sand. They had also planted windbreaks following the earlier drought, but these were not as effective as they had hoped."

There has been much discussion about cloud seeding, but according to Measamer, the attributes of this process are most uncertain.

"The theory itself is sound," said Measamer, "but, there has not been enough research done to guarantee the results."

"The clouds are seeded with silver iodide which cools the atmosphere, lowering the dew point and the atmosphere's capacity to hold water."

"This is a very expensive process and too often done by amateurs who do not take the wind current into consideration. Therefore, the clouds are carried off, and their moisture dumped onto land where the rainfall is of no use."

"There has also been a great deal of controversy concerning this method, and many bad feelings have resulted from its use. Often farmers or ranchers farther on in the path of the clouds feel that they have been robbed of their rightful moisture."

There is no well known method of controlling the weather, and no economical way to make the clouds release the moisture they cling to so strongly.

There is also still the question of the drought cycle, and more than that the question of what causes this cycle to take place.

"There are many theories concerning this lack of moisture," said Measamer. "The most accepted is that it is due to the change in the Jet Stream."

"The stream moves from east to west, but gradually moves from north to south too. The theory is that as this Jet Stream moves from north to south it causes changes on the earth. Some of these changes are thought to be involved with an increase or decrease in the amount of rainfall," said Measamer.

The weather might be a trite subject in some parts of the country, but in Randall County it's a matter of great importance.

The weather determines whether the farmer can get his crop in the ground and whether the rancher can find enough grass to support his herd.

Farmers and ranchers in the county are facing these problems now.

With the new rains farmers are able to get their crops into the ground and some are able to catch up on their irrigation.

Ranchers too have felt the effects of this recent life giving moisture. Their grass which had been eaten down to the ground has now been given some water so that it will grow at least enough to give some feed.

If the rains continue and the drought really is broken then the farmers and ranchers are in fairly good shape.

But, what happens if they don't?

These are old problems and problems that have been faced before, and overcome.

The problem of lack of moisture has happened again and again in the Panhandle, and each time overcoming it is a little easier.

LARRY ELMS

Elms Sees Difficult Year Ahead For WT Senate

Larry Elms was elected as student body president May 1 and has quite a busy year ahead of him.

Elms, a junior at West Texas State University is from Silverton and seems to thrive on plans for the year ahead.

"I feel the more things I have to do, the more I get done," said Elms, "and this coming year should be quite a test for it."

"We've made a lot of plans for next year already and have tried to get most of the activities organized and scheduled ahead of time."

Elms is no stranger to student politics. In high school Elms spent three years on the student council, one of those as treasurer, and was also vice-president of his class.

"I'm very interested in politics," said Elms. "I think I enjoy it more than anything else. There's a challenge to politics and an excitement that's lacking in everything else."

"Some of my supporters and I worked for almost a full year organizing my campaign for student body president. Campaigning for any election takes hard work and long hours, but in the end it's worth it."

"I've always been interested in student government," said Elms, "and made an even more extensive study of it last year as a student senator."

"Being student body president holds quite a challenge especially at a school which is growing as fast and changing as rapidly as WT. In many ways we're forming traditions that will be followed for years to come."

"The person holding the position of study body president has one main duty and that is to preside over the Student Senate," said Elms.

"However, the job really involves much more than just this. Already this summer we've arranged the social calendar for the year and the student's handbook is already at the printers."

"I think the main duty of my office is general flunking. I get to take care of all the problems that come up, that have no one designated to handle them."

"Student government is really one of the best places in the world, though, to learn about politics because you do get to work in so many different phases of government."

"Since it is on a scale much smaller than even city government, it's possible to see all the workings and to analyze their effectiveness," said Elms.

"There are quite a few programs that I hope to be able to carry through, during my term of office," said Elms.

"The main project is to build school spirit in the students, especially the freshmen, at WT."

"For too long WT has been a 'suitcase college' made up of students who don't really care, I'd like very much to see this change."

"WT is a very good school as it is now, but I don't see that it can progress as far as it should until we do get this spirit."

"This, of course, can't be done in a year or even two years, but it has to start sometime."

Elms has other plans on the agenda for the new year. One is the Entrance Way sponsored by the Student Association and the Ex-Student Association.

The plan is to raise enough money to build an attractive entrance way to the college, "that will show travelers and tourists that there is a university here and show just where it is."

"Some of the other projects we have in the planning stage are a Student Court System for traffic violations, a Governing Board made up of faculty members, and a Book of Rules made up of previous incidents and the rulings on them."

"These are mainly in the planning stage, but there have been indications that they will be initiated on the WT campus. The school has needed these programs for several years, maybe we can get them now."

"There are many goals we'd like to achieve this year, but the main one is to see that the student body and the student senate is given more responsibility so that we can accomplish these goals," said Elms.

"This ought to be a good year for the school and a busy one for the Senate. A lot of goals have been set by the Senate and the students, we're going to have to work hard to be able to meet them. But we will."

This will be the first time a second voting box has been placed in the district.

The bond election calls for $600,000 for an elementary school, which will be located in the north part of the district in south Amarillo.

"The second box will enable people in south Amarillo to vote easier. They won't have to drive to Canyon in order to vote in the election," Laycock said.

In order to vote in the bond election persons must have lived in the state a year and in the county six months, and have property on the school tax roll.

Mobil Oil Company was awarded the gasoline bid for the school year of 1964-65 with a low bid of .1306 cents for regular gasoline and .1528 for premium.

Hazlewood Farm Dairy received the milk bid with a low bid of six cents for one-half pint of white milk and six cents for one-half pint of chocolate milk. Hazlewood gave a discount of two percent for the milk.

American Bakeries was awarded the bread bid for the school cafeterias.

They bid 21 cents for a 1 1/2 pound loaf of white bread; 20 cents for a 1 pound loaf of whole wheat bread; 22 cents for a package of 8 hamburger buns; 22 cents for a package of 8 cone buns and 25 cents for a 1 pound package of yeast.

Lane Ice Cream Company bid low on ice cream for the cafeterias.

Low bid included 40 cents a dozen for chocolate covered ice milk bars; 40 cents a dozen for popsicles; 40 cents a dozen for three ounce cups of ice cream; 80 cents for sidewalk sundaes; 80 cents for ice cream sandwiches; 80 cents a dozen for eskimo pies and 80 cents a dozen for toasted almond bars.

Resignations from teachers, Mrs. Carla Willingham and Bobby Paris, were accepted by the board.

Mrs. Betty Stoker, Mrs. Martha Stevens and Mrs. Pat Cranfill Patton were hired by the board.

Mrs. Stoker received her M.A. degree from West Texas State University. She has six years experience and will teach in the elementary school, according to Laycock.

Mrs. Stevens received her B. A. degree from WT and will also be an elementary teacher.

Mrs. Patton, who will teach science in the high school, received her B.A. degree from WT. She served as laboratory instructor at WT last year.

Plans for added and improved facilities of the vocational agriculture department were discussed by board members.

Laycock explained to the trustees that the agriculture facilities south of the present high school building need improving.

The board expressed their thanks to Imperial Chevrolet of Canyon for use of two cars in a summer drivers training course.

They also expressed their appreciation to Randall County Commissioners, B. R. Jones and Clarence Beckman, and West Texas State University for helping clear the ground west of the Junior High School building for school bus parking.

They approved tax discounts for early payment of three percent in September and October two percent in November and one percent in December.

Laycock told the board that more teachers may be needed. He said approximately 200 new students had enrolled.

She said all teaching positions are filled, but a counselor had not been found for the school year.

"I have sent out 71 letters to counselors in the state, and I have checked with several colleges, but I have not been able to find anyone suitable," Laycock said.

The board approved the district accounts payable, the special fund financial report, the cafeteria report and accounts payable, Canyon Independent School District financial report and the Canyon Independent Tax Collectors report.

Tom Freeman, left, and Mike Wilson prepare the C. B. Cable house for any kind of weather. Freeman plasters the stucco on the house while Wilson is official mixer and keeps Freeman supplied with the mud-like mixture. The stucco dries to a light gray, and will be painted to a more attractive color. More help is needed to complete the house by Sept. 1, Bill Wilson said.

the apartment to pick up the grocery list.

"Toby wanted to stay out in the yard and play, so I went on in the house.

"A few minutes later Helen Adams drove up with Kevin and Angelo in the car. Toby yelled hello to Kevin from across the yard.

"Then for no reason that I can see, Angelo broke loose from the leash Helen was holding and ran to Toby and attacked him.

"I came out of the house when I heard her screams. Toby had his head turned and there was just a little blood over his eyebrow. I thought he'd fallen. But, when I got to him I saw what had happened.

"Helen got Kevin inside the house as quick as she could, and I grabbed Toby and started screaming for help.

"There was a woman driving down the street, Mrs. Lewis, and she stopped when she saw me. She opened the door and I just jumped in. She leaned on the horn and we drove to the hospital as fast as we could.

"I didn't even know what had happened until we got into the emergency room. I asked Toby if he'd fallen and he said no that Angelo had bitten him."

Toby is now taking rabies shots, according to Dr. Nester but only as a regular precaution taken when a dog bite occurred on the head.

Angelo is now at the Markham Veterinary Clinic where he will be held for 12 days to make sure he could not have infected the child with rabies.

"Even though we've had Angelo for about three years and he's almost like a member of the family," said Adams, "we plan to have him put away when the waiting period is over."

"He's always been gentle around the children, but it's obvious now that he can't be trusted. We can't take a chance on anything like this happening again."

When asked what could have caused the dog to attack so suddenly, Dr. Markham said that it could have been anything.

"The German Shepherd is an intelligent breed of dog, and I think they often have the ability to reason. The boy might have accidentally hurt Angelo some time in the past, and the dog finally found his chance to get even," said Dr. Markham.

"Because these dogs are so intelligent they need to be trained to do some kind of job. This works sort of like a stabilizer," he said.

cut very short, farmers have planted their crops hoping for enough time. However, even if the crop does not have enough time to mature, according to Brazzil, it will be harvested and still be of use.

Even with the added moisture the cattleman faces a light calf crop.

Because of the dry weather farmers with irrigated fields of grain sorghum have been getting farther and farther behind in their watering schedules. A few have even been forced to abandon some acres they were so far behind and begin again.

"The dry land grain sorghum, that was planted in June, is in poor condition," said Brazzil, "but the rain will help quite a bit."

Because of the lack of moisture the crop has lain in sort of a dormant stage, not progressing to any extent but still having some life.

"The rain should make the crop continue its growth so that there will be some dry land grain sorghum crop," said Brazzil.

Brazzil pointed out that the rains have been invaluable to the whole community.

Even the townspeople are showing the effects of the beneficial moisture.

"The whole economy of the community is based on farming and ranching," said Brazzil, "and when these people are in trouble everybody gets unhappy."

"Now that there's been some rain and the farmers aren't in quite as much trouble as they were everybody seems more cheerful."

"People are even smiling on the square again."

Purpose of the show is to demonstrate what can be done with lights and sound in the outdoor amphitheater located in Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

All members of the Heritage Foundation are invited to the demonstration.

No admission charge will be made to the general public. Guests will have to pay the $1 admission fee to the park.
